RECOVER FASTER WITH KIVU'S RESPONSE SERVICES

If you're impacted by a cyberattack, you need speed and expertise on your side. With Kivu's 24/7 Response Services, you get immediate support from world-class experts backed by digital forensics. Our team jumps to action – remotely and on-site when you need us – to rapidly investigate, contain, and help you recover from cyberattacks, so you can get back to business as usual.

Kivu moves fast to find what went wrong and stop it. Using proprietary technology, we quickly and discretely collect data for analysis with minimal disruption to your business operations. Our team of deeply experienced, certified analysts conduct a digital forensics investigation to uncover the extent of what happened and how.

After containing the threat, Kivu restores your systems and data. If you and your data are attacked by cyber extortionists, we're armed with experienced, successful negotiators to communicate with the bad guys, so you don't have to. We work to lower ransom demands and facilitate government-compliant payments as needed.

Once you're out of the crisis, our post-incident analysis determines the root cause of your breach or email compromise. Then we rebuild your systems stronger and more resistant to future attacks. If you have a legal case, you're backed by preserved digital evidence and our complete investigation report. Kivu can even guide you through litigation and offer expert witness testimony to help secure a successful legal outcome.
